

Scratch Programming Class

Offered by Ashland Community Education

This class is for students in Grades 3, 4, & 5

Scratch Programming: Scratch is an easy to use programming language created at MIT to help students learn the basics of programming. Students can create multimedia presentations for school and design interactive games. They learn the programming basics of sequential logic, operations, decision making, etc. in a fun, engaging format. Students can share their games and presentations with their friends and family through the online Scratch community.
